

Thinking About your Drama Work

I understood the task.
I worked well with others.
I contributed ideas.
I thought about what my character would say.
I thought about the words that my character would use.
I thought about how my character would move.
I thought about how my character would act.
I stayed in character throughout the play.
I noticed what others had said and responded to them in character.
I have offered sensible ideas about how the play could be made better next time.
